Brief Synopsis

Current Situation as of 1645 hrs

There are less than 10 people on Parliament Hill and 1-200 people on Wellington, Elgin, Rideau and Sussex. There has been no change in our geographical boundaries. There are ongoing changes with respect to the position and numbers of trucks. Firm numbers are not yet known as they are still be jockeyed around in the immediate area. There are still sporadic reports of vehicles leaving the downtown core.

The integrated staffing of police resources of OPS, RCMP and OPP continues at a variety of static traffic, QRT and mobile response capacities. PLT and Traffic officers are working in tandem with delegated authority to manage the ingress of and egress of vehicles within the inner perimeter. There is a reduced POU capacity to allow for some forced downtime for OPS ESU due to the operational tempo.

Additionally, there was a pause of enforcement action within the footprint to alleviate pressure points with the ongoing negotiations with sub-leaders in the different areas.

A tent was set up on the grounds of the National War Memorial by a group of veterans. They are using it for respite from the weather while they provide an ongoing vigil/sentry duty. PLT and QRT members have had ongoing discussions with these people without success. The vets currently on site are not associated with the protest group, nor with any other organization.

There is also an ongoing, small protest at 474 Elgin by counter-protestors. Members continue to monitor and engage with the crowds to monitor any change in dynamics.
